

SWELL 2018 Program

Friday March 23, 2018

Université de Neuchâtel

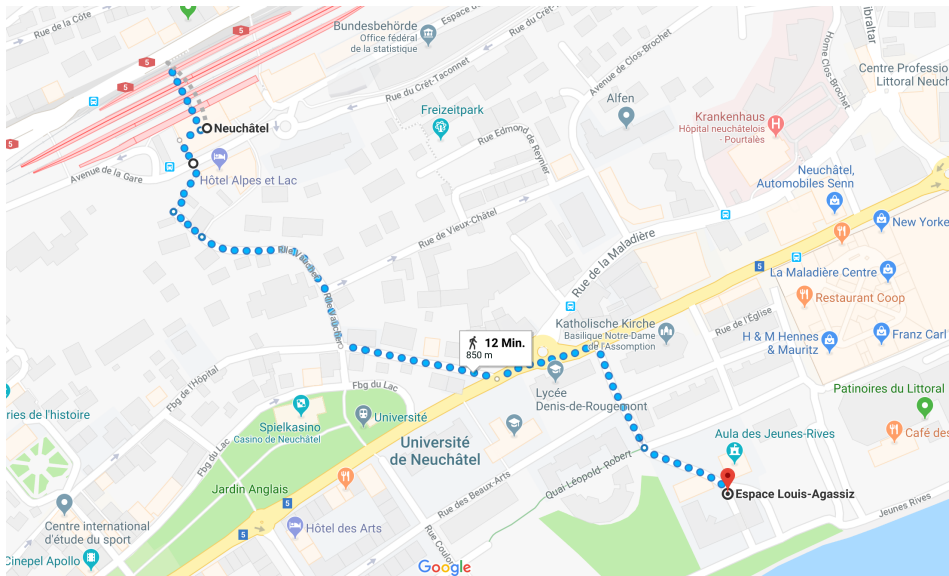

Espace Louis Agassiz 1, 2000 Neuchâtel

Room RS 38

10:00-10:30	Welcome and coffee
10:30-11:00	Jennifer Thorburn (UniL) “Losing our Inuttitut”: Outcomes of language shift in Nain, Nunatsiavut
11:00-11:30	Maida Bilkic (UniBe) Mapping “internet nationalism”: A critical discourse analysis of online comments around Bosnia-Herzegovina’s post-war semiotic landscapes
11:30-12:00	Steve Duman, Thomas Messerli, Les Sikos (UniBas & Saarland University) Voice-based virtual assistants and metaphor
12:00-14:30	Lunch (Max et Meuron, Passage Maximilien-de-Meuron 4, 2000 Neuchâtel)
14:30-15:00	Samuel Bourgeois (UniNe) Colloquialization, subjectification, and intersubjectification: On the development of discourse markers in written Modern English
15:00-15:30	Daria Dayter (UniBas) Corpus-based investigation of collocativity in simultaneously interpreted and original English speech
15:30-16:00	Coffee
16:00-16:30	Danielle Tod (UniBe) The effect of degree of ethnolect on applicant employability: A New Zealand case study
16:30-17:00	Susanne Flach (UniNe) Go SWELL it! , but *She goes swells it : Does corpus distribution predict acceptability judgements?
17:00-18:00	Business meeting
18:30-19:30	Dinner (Brasserie Le Jura, Rue de la Treille 7, 2000 Neuchâtel)

Directions from the train station:

Walk towards the lake, past the red church. The University of Neuchâtel is situated right at the lake. The SWELL meeting will be in the faculty of humanities, in room RS 38.

Lunch (Max et Meuron, Passage Maximilien-de-Meuron 4, 2000 Neuchâtel)

Dinner (Brasserie Le Jura, Rue de la Treille 7, 2000 Neuchâtel)

